- IB Courses
- Strong Robot team and athletic
- Good boarding facility

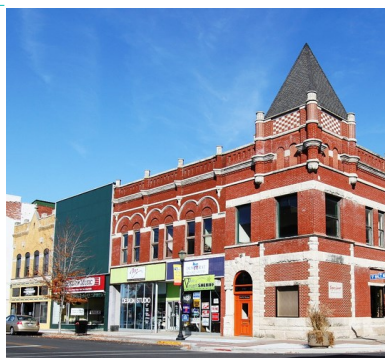

Established in 1872, Kokomo High School (KHS) is a top-notch public high school that offers 25 Advanced Placement (AP) courses as well as International Baccalaureate Diploma Program, providing an incredible number of challenging academic programs from which to choose. A testament to its strong record of academic success, 25 students were named National Merit Finalists in the past seven years. In 2017, 47 students, including 13 International students, earned Advanced Placement Scholar Awards. The school has a world-renowned robotics team, and takes pride in its athletic program, which has a rich history and a tradition of excellence. More than 500 KHS student athletes participate in more than 400 athletic events throughout each school year. Students from KHS earned acceptance to prestigious universities throughout the country, such as Harvard, Stanford, Cornell, UCLA, and Johns Hopkins. After spending the first year at Kokomo High School, students will take two college courses each semester at Ivy Tech Community College. Generally one online class and one at the college. And the class at the college is only once a week.
