We welcomed the new students at Conwell-Egan Catholic High School Residence Hall on August 30, 2021. This year we have 8 new students from different countries around the world including South Korea and China. The students had their orientation before school started, at which they were informed about the dorm rules and daily schedules. The new students got closer to new people and familiarized themselves with the dorm facilities and services throughout the orientation.

The students visited Grounds For Sculpture, a sculpture park and museum located in New Jersey. The park is well-known for having more than 270 exotic sculptures created by famous, modern artists. The students walked around and enjoyed the sight of various sculptures in the museum. They also spent time making wonderful memories and capturing them on camera. The trip to Grounds for Sculpture was a great chance for the students to have fun and relax, taking a break from their everyday lives.

By Minhye Lee

Sadie Hawkins dance was held on September 18, 2021 at Conwell-Egan. Sadie Hawkins is an informal high school dance, to which the girls ask their dates. The theme of the dance this year was "Under the Sea", so the students accordingly wore their best blue and green attire to the dance. The dorm students went to the first dance of the school year and created great memories with their friends. It was a perfect opportunity for the international students to learn about and experience an American high school dance.

Philadelphia City Tour

By Jiwoo Kim

The dorm students visited Philadelphia, Pennsylvania's largest city, on September 25th. The city is about half an hour away from the dormitory, and it is known for its arts and culture. The students walked around the beautiful building of City Hall and then visited Love Park, where they saw the iconic LOVE Sculpture. All students loved exploring Philadelphia and had fun throughout the trip.

The students went to Villanova University, which is ranked #49 in National Universities. An upperclassman at Villanova gave the students a tour of the school, which gave them a taste of what it is like to be a student at Villanova University. The students entered the school and took a look inside different department building including the business and science buildings, which featured laboratories and classrooms. After going through all the departments, the dorm students had the chance to watch a volleyball game on campus, which enabled them to feel the school spirit.
